PRIDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 15.

MODERN SKEPTICISM -A bired man who had been employed on a farm in this county for several months entered suit against his employ er the other day for balance of wages, amounting, as he claimed, to $32. The suit was on trial in Justice Alley yesterday, and it looked at first as if the plaintiff had a clear case. He gave dates and figures in a straight forward way, and seemed a very honest young man. When the farmer took the stand he said

"I claim an offet for that $32. No man ceed sue me for what I honestly owe.

"What is your offset?" asked the lawyer. "He's an unbeliever."

"In what ?"

"Wby, in the Bible." "What has that to do with your, owing him

$32 ?" "It has a heap to do with it. I had six hands in my employ, and we were rushing things when I hired this man. He hadn't been with us two days when they stopped the reaper in the middle of the forenoon to dispute about Daniel in the lion's den, and in three days we had a regular knock down over the whale swal lowing Jonah. The man who ran the mower got to arguing about Samson and drove over a stump and damaged the machine to the time of $18, and the very next day my boy broke his leg while climbing a ferce to hear and see the row which was started over the chi dren of Israel going through the Red Sea. It wasn't a week before my wife said she didn't believe Elijah was fed by the ravens, and hang me if I didn't fied myself grewing weak on Noah and his flood. That's my offset, sir; and if he was worth anything I'd sue him for a thousand dol lars besides.

The court reserved his decision for twenty four bours .- Detroit Free Press
